District Description

Eustis-Farnam Public School District encompasses 384 square miles in the south central Nebraska counties of Frontier, Dawson, Gosper and Lincoln. Two small towns, Eustis (population 401) and Farnam (population 171), are located in the district. The district is a ranching and farming economy with some small businesses and production.

Eustis-Farnam Public Schools are the result of a 1997 merger. At the time of merger there were 347 students in the district. Enrollment is currently 170. Despite the challenges brought about by the merger and the fiscal pressure that accompanies declining enrollment, the Eustis-Farnam Public Schools community is committed to quality, innovative educational opportunities. As a direct result of this commitment, student achievement generally exceeds national averages on norm-referenced assessments and frequently exceeds state averages on norm-referenced tests and criterion-referenced assessments.
